

Above—Lady Astor campaigning for women's votes in Plymouth, England, in the recent Parliamentary election. She proved herself wholly democratic and was ready to answer hecklers of all kinds.
Copyright, Keystone View.

Above—Lady Nancy Astor greeting Isaac Foote, one of her opponents. Their debates enlivened the Plymouth election mightily.
Copyright, International.

Below—Lord and Lady Astor with a district map planning the routes of her campaign tours. He goes into the House of Lords and she won his seat in the Commons.
Copyright, International.

Lady Astor and her six children. Left to right—Miss Phyllis, Baby John Jacob, Robert Shaw, Michael, David and William Waldorf. Lady Nancy was Miss Langhorne of Virginia.
Copyright, International.

Countess Markievicz Irish born, the first woman elected to the British Parliament. Being a Sinn Feiner, she refused to take her seat, but may do so now. Thus Lady Astor would lose the prestige of being the first woman member.
Copyright, Press Illustrating.

New peaceful use for a war tank. At a gas explosion in Chicago recently this baby one man fighting machine helped in clearing away the wreckage.
Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.